

"To my acting friends that have asked, this is Addy's coach. Check him out if you are interested in a little extra training. He will sometimes work with Addy directly on a piece, but has also just taught her the art of breaking down a script, etc. Something that most child actors don't know how to do - and some adults. It helps her to better prepare for scenes and some auditions as well."

"Tanner provided me with excellent character insight when I worked with him on a monologue used for an audition. Results were: I got in the show and months later someone mentioned to me that they remembered my audition. I am totally satisfied and would work with him again. I hope he teaches another scene acting class soon b/c I will sign up again also. Rates are reasonable."

Barbara Dicterio

Scene Study/Private Acting Student

"Tanner is extremely professional and takes the craft and profession of acting very seriously. Taking every beat of a very emotion driven scene and breaking it down effortlessly with me, in a matter of weeks, he had me believing in myself and my abilities. Through encouragement and steady instruction, I learned more from Tanner in a matter of weeks than my professors in school taught in four LONG years. I am looking forward to auditioning this summer and putting those learned skills to work. Would I take another scene study class from Tanner? You bet I would. Thank you Tanner!"

Todd Carper
